May be taken for CPE credit as

In-service training:

Sponsored by Texas Education Agency

May be taken for 6 hours of graduate credit

Program Description:

An in-depth study of the Kodály approach to music education, special attention is given to concept sequencing and lesson planning for kindergarten and first grade music classrooms (Level I) and for 4th and 5th grade music classrooms (Level III).

Comprehensive musicianship through sight-singing, ear training, keyboard and written skills in the pentatonic, diatonic, and modal scale systems will be developed. The program will also include collecting and analyzing song materials, conducting, choral ensemble, and special topics.

Ann Eisen

A retired music teacher from Lake Charles, LA., Eisen owns Sneaky Snake Publications. She is coauthor, with Lamar Robertson, of An American Methodology and From Folk Songs to Masterworks, both widely used to teach Kodály educators. She has taught in Kodály Certification courses at universities throughout the US and presented sessions and master classes at local, state, and national OAKE conferences.

Kari Proksch

Kari Proksch teaches music at St. Margaret Catholic School in Lake Charles, LA and is the Artistic Director of Les Petites Voix community chorus for children. She received a Diploma in Music Pedagogy from the Franz Liszt Academy: Zoltán Kodály Pedagogical Institute in Kecskemét, Hungary and has presented workshops on the local, state and national levels.

Comments from past students

Amazing! I am learning from the best.

This was fantastic. I'm going to work hard and come back and get more.

I am blown away by watching these teachers teach.

Wow! What an engaging and diverse group of people.

Thank you for allowing me to fix my mistakes.

Challenging, yet obtainable.

It really pushed me; the pace was good.

Challenging, but with a good mix so we could be successful.
